

Safer Alternatives to Harmful Drugs & Medication for Your Dog's Health

Read This Short Report In Its Entirety

Here's your free report to help you get your dog back to the place he was at when he was a puppy: happy, peaceful, with NO PAIN!

At Dogs Health we said we are SERIOUS about our long-term relationship with you.

We've asked you to digest the life saving message in our report, simply in exchange for your email address. This is to get to know each other over time and learn your intentions. Let's get real; one bottle is only the beginning to a long-term lifestyle change you're about to embark on with your sweet dog.

Our mission is to get the word out that Winston's is a miracle product that goes directly to the joints to reduce inflammation, along with all of our other natural formulas.

We know you have to try the product before YOU'LL BELIEVE with the same certainty that we have, for saving dogs' lives and stopping the pain they face everyday.

P.S. Congratulations for joining us to get the word out that Winston's is a miracle product that goes directly to the joints to reduce inflammation.

When it comes to your pet...

People and their pets have a special bond, one that no one else but we can have. You treat them with love, compassion and kindness. You are always there for them just as they have always been there for you. When they get sick and injured, you provide care for them just as you would care for yourself.

Helping people provide the best quality of life for their dogs has been our mission for nearly 20 years. Our passion is providing safe and healing human food grade remedies to help improve mobility problems caused by poor diet and nutrition, birth defects and other causes of many common ailments found in the various dog breeds.

Severe to mild arthritic conditions may be pre-existing conditions in your dog's bloodline. Some breeds are more prone to certain conditions. Nevertheless, all dogs can suffer from cases of canine hip dysplasia, osteochondritis, or OCD, HOD, and arthritis.

Many of these problems can lead to a shorter life span for your pet if not treated correctly. In many instances, a diagnosis from a veterinarian might provide a prescription for medication that is used for reducing inflammation, pain and dryness of the joints.

The biggest problem with most medications is the harmful side effects that can occur from regular usage of those medications. We all know exactly how dangerous prescriptions can be... just watch the multitude of commercials on television and listen to the "potential side effects" they are plagued with. It's the "new pill of the week club" at whose expense?

We here at DogsHealth.Com do not have a problem with veterinarians and certainly there are proper times to administer medication, and then there are times when medication isn't warranted. In fact, with proper nutrition and the correct foods, most health issues can be corrected. We here at Dogs Health believe in a holistic approach to health care for your dog. We do not provide dog food, vitamins or nutritional supplements of any kind. We are the manufacturer of high quality, human grade food remedies for your pet.

We have saved and helped over 20,000 dogs in our nearly 20 years in business and have plenty of case studies and customer testimonials to support our success. Listen to what one of our satisfied customers had to say...

Cookie & Bella's Story

Cookie tells her story of Bella, her faithful lab, who suffered from a severe case of hip dysplasia. Bella's diagnosis meant she would have a short life and lack of mobility. Then Cookie and her husband discovered better health for their dogs by using our proven combination of three natural formulas.

Winston's saved Bella's life, and your dog can and will enjoy a life full of running, playing and mobility freedom once and for all. Forget about dangerous medications and harmful side effects. Veterinarians are in business and they have to earn a living, too, and just like medical doctors prescribing medications, it means big business to pharmaceutical companies.

Holistic Veterinary care is a natural and healthy alternative to traditional dog health care. Special diet and nutrition focus on using raw food, herbs and natural remedies for many health issues your dog may have developed over the years.

If you are new to the club of joyful dog and puppy enthusiasts, we want to welcome you and also provide you with some brief information about vaccinations for your pet.

We know Veterinary doctors are important to your dog's health. They provide a valuable skill set and knowledge that can in many cases save your pet in an emergency situation.

In any case, we wanted to provide you with this quick health guide when working with your Veterinarian. This guide has simple instructions on how to use vaccines and medications with your pets. Take a few moments to review this guide and save the information somewhere safe so you can refer to it as needed.

Thank you again for taking the time to learn more about your pet's health. Remember, we're only a mouse click away if you have any questions about natural healing and holistic health care (we have referrals to Holistic and Naturopathic Doctors & Veterinarians).

Be sure to stop by our website, blog, Facebook, Twitter & LinkedIn accounts to connect with us online. If you would like to listen to more of our loyal customers, please visit our testimonial page on our blog or our YouTube channel. For more information on "Winston's Joint System" please visit our website.

"Dogs that suffer with joint diseases such as Arthritis, OCD, Hip Dysplasia and other degenerative problems with the shoulders, elbows and hips, can now get immediate and long-term relief without drugs or surgery."

Winston's Joint System™ combines three natural formulas developed by a Holistic Doctor for his own dog. No side effects, because it's all just good whole food. No dosage problems because the body uses only what it needs. And now, with the latest product release, the formula is showing results that are even more remarkable.

Has your pet become less active, less playful, or wanting shorter walks? The symptoms below could be early signs of OCD, Arthritis or Hip Dysplasia.

Moving more slowly
Difficulty getting up
Weight shift to another leg
Personality change
Reluctant to walk, jump or play
Refuses using stairs or the car

Change in appetite
Change in behavior
Muscle atrophy
Lagging behind
Yelping when touched
Limping

Thank you for choosing Dogs Health as your source for better advice and trusted, proven results for your dogs.

Remember...

" Better health for your dog means better health for you, too."

Here is your vaccine information:

Dogs feel pain for many of the same reasons as humans: infections, dental problems, arthritis, bone disease and cancer. They also feel discomfort following surgical procedures.

Unfortunately, unlike humans, they are unable to speak to us about when and where they hurt.

You are in the best position to look for the subtle changes in behavior that may indicate your pet is suffering. It's important to stay alert to these signs, because the sooner your dog's pain is diagnosed and treated, the sooner he or she can heal and resume a normal, happy life.

If your dog shows one or more of these behaviors and you suspect it may be due to pain, notify your veterinarian immediately.

VOCALIZING: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Whining • Howling • Whimpering • Yelping • Groaning 	ACTIVITY LEVEL: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Restless • Reluctant to move • Difficulty getting up from a laying position • Repetitively gets up and lies down • Trembling, circling or lying very still • Seeks more affection than usual 	SELF-PROTECTION: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Protects a body part • Doesn't put weight on a limb • Limp • Doesn't want to be held or picked up • Hides
DAILY HABITS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Decreased appetite • Withdraws from social interaction • Changes in sleeping or drinking • Lapses in house training • Sleeps more 	FACIAL EXPRESSION: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grimaces, vacant stare • Glazed, wide-eyed or looks sleepy • Enlarged pupils • Flattened ears • Pants excessively when at rest 	AGGRESSIVE: especially a previously friendly dog <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acts out of character • Growls, hisses, bites • Pins ears back • A normally aggressive dog may act quiet, docile
SELF-MUTILATION: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Licking • Biting • Scratching a particular part of its body 	GROOMING: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Coat lacks normal shine • Hair stands up in places 	POSTURE: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Hunched, with hindquarters raised and front end down on the ground • Lays on its side

Don't Treat Your Dog's Pain by Yourself!

Never administer pain medication to a pet without consulting with your veterinarian. After diagnosing the problem, your veterinarian will explain the benefits, risks and costs associated with various treatment options. That way, you and your veterinarian can choose the approach that best meets the needs of you and your dog.

If Your Veterinarian Prescribes a Pain Medication:

USE WITH EXTREME CAUTION

Do

- Follow your veterinarian's instructions.
- Watch for possible side effects, including:
 - Vomiting
 - Diarrhea
 - Blood in stools (the stool appears black, tarry, like it contains coffee grounds)
 - Change in drinking or urinating
 - Change in behavior, such as depression, restlessness or appetite loss
 - Yellowing of gums, skin or whites of eyes

© DogsHealth.Com 2010 All Rights Reserved

Veterinarian Information Gathered From "American Animal Hospital Association"

- Changes in skin (redness, scabs or scratching)
- Stop medicating immediately if your dog shows any of these symptoms and call your veterinarian at once.
- Keep the drug safely out of reach of your pets and children.

Don't

- Change the dosage or frequency unless directed by your veterinarian.
- Give any other drug to your dog while it is taking the pain medication (without first talking to your veterinarian).
- Hesitate to call your veterinarian if you ever have questions or concerns.

Healthy, Happy Pets Are Our Business!

© DogsHealth.Com 2010 All Rights Reserved

Veterinarian Information Gathered From "American Animal Hospital Association"